

I mentioned Simoun in a recent entry as this season's best hope for good shoujo-ai (a genre which is sadly under-represented, I have to say). HobbyChannel have some more information on the show, including some screenshots, a cast picture, and the news that sav

age genius

will be responsible for the ED theme,

poem

. The screenshots prove beyond shadow of a doubt that yuri fans will love this series, while savage genius were also behind two of my favourite anime theme songs (

Forever

from

Erementar Gerad

and

Omoi wo Kanadete

from

Uta~Kata

). Put that together, and I'm really beginning to look forward to this one. Simoun begins airing on April 4th.
